The White Family Record

1771-1916

Historical Sketch

In this brief record we have endeavored to include as accurate a history of the family and descendants of Jacob White as it is possible at this time to obtain. Our only regret is that we did not have it written many years ago when it could have been made much more complete.

It is probable that Jacob White and Rachel Brittain were both born in Pennsylvania and spent their married life in Luzerne County, until 1816 or 17 when they moved to Ohio, settling on a farm near Springfield Lake just east of Akron.

In those days traveling was done in the most primitive manner and their trip must have occupied weeks and been attended by hardships that to those of this generation would seem impossible to endure. The only means of transportation was with team and wagon through an almost unbroken country. We wonder whether they had more than one wagon for their family of eleven or twelve or whether they could indulge in the luxury of a real "Prairie Schooner." Whether there was any sickness, if so what remedies they had with them. What their diet consisted of and how often they had to wait while they did their baking. How many times, they had to stop, not on account of tire or engine trouble, but because of great mud holes which are inseparable with trails through the woods.

So far as known however, the journey was made without any serious mishap and the family arrived safely and at once proceeded to establish their home in what was to them a western country.

The father was a large man, genial, and kindly, while the mother was very small in stature, vigorous, and active, qualities which were very necessary in caring for her large family. It is beyond our powers of comprehension to realize the amount of work done by this slight woman, for in those days the family baking, soap making, spinning, weaving, sewing and candle making were done in the home and not in factories, tailoring establishments and power plants.

The environment and manner of living necessary to subdue the forest and bring into subjection this new country developed the very best traits of character and gave us a sturdy progressive ancestry widely known for its public spirit and willingness to serve others. ,

For more than a third of a century after coming to Ohio the family circle remained unbroken by death, until in 1853 the father died and in about two years the mother also passed away.

There were twelve children in the family and with the exception of one girl who died in childhood, all lived to marry and have homes of their own.

The oldest child, John, married in 1825 and lived within a few miles of the old home until the winter of 1863-4 when he moved to Michigan and settled on a farm between Barron Lake and Niles, living there until his death.

Zeboath, or more familiarly "Uncle Zeb," was attracted by the discovery of gold in California and decided to cast his lot with the people of that country. He died in Oregon in 1853. The hardships he endured, the difficulties he met with and the pain he suffered in his last sickness can never be known to its fullest extent.

Elizabeth was married in 1836 to Joseph Moore and there are many still living who can recall the splendid hospitality of that home, and the many happy hours spent with "Uncle Joe and Aunt Betty".

The sense of fun and humor was emphasized in "Uncle Levi," and another outstanding characteristic was his great love for children. His death was followed in a few weeks by that of his wife in the fall of 1873.

Joseph and Henry married sisters and in a few years both were left widowers and later remarried. Both served an apprenticeship and learned the trade of wagon making. Both settled in the home county of Summit. Later Joseph moved to Berea, "The Grindstone City" where he lived until his death. Henry moved to Indiana, then on account of poor health returned to Ohio; moved again to Indiana, and in the spring of 1865 settled in Michigan where he died.

Sarah or "Aunt Sally" lived at home with her parents, taking care of them and assisting with the housework. Near middle life she married Wm. McColgan known to all of us as "Uncle Billy." He came from Ireland and lived with a Jane McCright who was probably his sister, and for whom he farmed for some time. After their marriage this Jane McCright built an addition to her house and there they lived until they bought the farm adjoining the White farm on which they made their home for many years. Milo White, though he was quite small, remembers the buggy standing in the yard and his crying because Aunt Sally was going to be married and go away.

Timothy was married in 1843 to Nancy Moore and the future for them seemed bright and happy, when in the fall of 1854 he and two of his sons were stricken and died. The story of the struggle the rest of the family had to make in fighting life's battles is one of pathos and claims our highest admiration in its success.

Abia stayed on the old farm and made a home for the father and mother until their death. His son, Milo, succeeded him as owner of the old homestead until very recently when it passed into other hands. How tender the associations and memories of that spot, where our forefathers were reared; the springhouse with its ever flowing cool pure water; the chestnut trees and the race on frosty fall mornings to see which would get the chestnuts, the boys or the squirrels.

Thomas married Sarah Ann Wirt January 1, 1846. They caught the spirit of the new Northwest and settled near Elkhart, Indiana. Those who saw them start on their trip in their covered wagon recall quite vividly how one of the horses became frightened, the quick-get-away they made, and the cooking utensils flying from the rear of the wagon. The remainder of his life he spent on the farm where he first settled.

Peter was the youngest in the family and when his country called for volunteers at the time of the civil war he responded although he was not subject to draft. Friends spent many anxious days while he was away especially when letters sent to his last known address were returned unopened, but joy came at last and a glad surprise when he returned home. In the fall of 1864 he moved to Michigan and made his home in the vicinity of Niles until he went to Three Rivers where he spent his last days with his daughter. As a result of his army life he was broken in health and for several years just before his death he was a complete invalid and was confined to a wheel chair.

The family reunion idea which for some years had been growing in popularity finally took with our family and as a result of the agitation and planning of Martha (White) Schell a reunion was held at River Bluff near Niles Sept. 26, 1908, with 41 present. An organization was formed with Charles Albert White as President, his daughter Mabel LaDora, Secretary and Charles E. White of Niles, Treasurer. Under the leadership of these officers the first booklet was printed in 1909, containing the historical sketch which was prepared by Martha Schell and read by her at the first reunion.

In 1910 a second booklet was printed, containing a speech made by Henry Clay White at the second reunion, a family record and a list of addresses.

Too much credit cannot be given to Mabel LaDora White, the Secretary, for the splendid work done in preparing this record and the great amount of time spent in gathering the data. Along with the name of Martha Schell the promotor of our organization, should be placed the name of Mabel LaDora White for the work done in giving us a family record.

The second reunion was held at Island Park in Elkhart July 24, 1909 with an attendance of 64. The third was held at River Bluff again and was equally successful, the attendance being the same. The date of this reunion was July 23, 1910.

The fourth reunion was held at Island Park Aug. 24, 1911 with an attendance of 48. At this reunion the Pres. and Sec. requested that they be relieved of the further responsibility of their offices and as they could not be prevailed upon to withdraw their requests G. A. White of Union Mills, Ind., and Martha Schell of Jones, Mich., were elected to succeed them.

The next three reunions were held at Springbrook Park near South Bend; the fifth on Aug. 23, 1912, attendance 30; the sixth, Aug. 23, 1913, attendance 28.

The falling off in attendance was discouraging to those who had been coming regularly and it was decided to put more vigor into our announcement for the next reunion which resulted in an attendance of 55 or practically double that of the previous year.

The outlook for our reunion at Niles Park last year was certainly fine and all indications pointed to a record breaking attendance but on the morning of Aug. 21st it was raining and it continued to rain and kept on raining, but regardless of the weather there were six present from Ohio, four from Chicago, and one from Union Mills, Ind. The picnic idea was givn up and instead a house party was given by Chas. E. White and wife who proved themselves the best of entertainers.

Although much time and thought has been placed upon this revised family record still it will be incomplete and there will be errors. Make your criticisms as kindly as possible, and by all means notify the Secretary of any corrections or additions that should be made.
